The College reserves the right to take action as it deems necessary to protect students and employees based on the awareness of impending dangers of specific diseases or illnesses.

Students who are injured may obtain assistance by contacting the Campus Police Department in the Centre Building.

The Thagard Health Center at Florida State University provides outpatient services to currently enrolled TCC students in need of medical attention. Students are required to pay for services at the time treatment is received. Students must present a current validated TCC Student Identification card to be admitted to the FSU Health Center for treatment.

Student health insurance is not available through the College. Information on an independent insurance provider that offers coverage to TCC students at moderate rates may be obtained from the Student Programs Office.

The College maintains a blood bank account with the Southeastern Community Blood Center. Students and College employees are given the opportunity to participate as donors several times each year. Information may be obtained from the Student Programs Office.

The Counseling Office makes referrals to various community agencies and services.

The health education instructors also advise students with specialized health-related problems and suggest appropriate professionals and/or agencies as resources.

The College reserves the right to take action as it deems necessary to protect students and employees based on the awareness of impending dangers of specific diseases or illnesses.